問題 A

Takashi : Hello, Ms. Green. May I talk to you now?
Ms. Green: Oh, hi, Takashi. What's up?
Takashi : I was not in your last class, so I'm here to get the homework.
Ms. Green: I see. Here you are. Oh, I heard you went to America.
Takashi : Yes. I stayed there for two weeks.
Ms. Green: Wonderful. I have never been there. But, why did you go there?
Takashi : Because I joined our school program to go to America.
Ms. Green: Great! Well, how was the program?
Takashi : I enjoyed it very much. I went to a high school every day and joined some classes like history or science.
Ms. Green: How did you study them there?
Takashi : We were given a problem every time. After thinking about that, we had to talk about our own ideas. I had my ideas and I tried to talk about mine. But I couldn't do that well in English and I don't think the students understood my ideas. So now I want to study English harder.
Ms. Green: I'm happy to hear that, Takashi. Your English will be better if you try to speak it more in your English classes.
Takashi : OK, I will.
Ms. Green: Good. Did you do any other things at the school?
Takashi : Yes. After school, I played basketball with some of my classmates and it was very exciting. We also talked about popular sports or school lives in each country. So, we could know each other better, and since that day we have been good friends.
Ms. Green: You really had a good time, right?
Takashi : Yes, I did. And when we had no school, some of them took me to an old city. It was very beautiful. I learned a lot about the city and I took many pictures there.
Ms. Green: Really? Will you talk about your stay with the pictures in my next class?
Takashi : All right, Ms. Green.
